THEY'RE ON. . .

The larger dailies seem to be pushing automated newsracks in the Cameron area: those of Waco, Austin, Dallas, and Houston.

So, okay.

In the next couple of weeks, your Herald is going to a complement of automated newsracks around the area, in fact our whole circulation area.

Your Herald is also instituting a Miss Classified ad service just like our cousins.

As Kojak says, "And like that!"

Ol' Mizzou is back in the Top 10 after putting down Big 8 Colorado 16-7 last week, the fourth, perhaps fifth nationally ranked team to fall before the incredibly talented, but equally unpredictable Columbians.

First it was USC, which is still in the Top 10, then Ohio State, then Nebraska, which both may still be there, and on the way, South Carolina. Losses to unlikely Iowa State, Big 8 surpriser Oklahoma State and so-so Illinois put the Tigers at 6-3. Hardly anybody's ever ranked that high with three losses.

From an unobjective viewpoint, it's sort of what you expect from the oldest state university west of the Mississippi

A pickup partner from California, tall like Stan Smith and with an elbow problem, and I tried to top seeds in a small doubles competition last week in Houston. The serve was moving and the 6-3 Californian was reaching overheads and guess who won?

It is interesting that Texas Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong is being mentioned as a possible Secretary of Interior in the Carter Administration. He was the leading Texas Carter booster.

This newspaper among dozens of others in 1970 supported Bob Armstrong for land commissioner to defeat veteran incumbent Jerry Sadler. In fact, this newspaper ran its endorsing editorial over those of three Texas dailies from around the state.

One of the reasons the press came down on Sadler and supported the able, young Armstrong was the fact that a newspaper photographer was unceremoniously clobbered by Sadler while trying to take a picture in the Land Commission office. Sadler was even censured by the Texas Legislature.

Guilty Plea Nets 50 Years

GROUND BREAKING ceremonies held Saturday for the Milam County Youth Exposition Building saw the sand flying as fund drive officials shoveled the first load. From left are Monroe Fuchs, Brenda Hoelscher, Charles Kunz, A. W. McCullin, Melvin Hollas, Dennis Thomascik and Bob Lehmann. Foundation work for the steel building has already begun, and it is hoped the building will be ready for the junior livestock show in February. Mike Peck photo

Marlin Man Sentenced For Killing Deputies

Douglas Stewart of Marlin pleaded guilty in 20th District Court Tuesday morning and was sentenced to 50 years in prison for the killing of two Falls County sheriff's deputies.

The offense took place on August 21, 1973 in Marlin, and Stewart's trial in that district resulted in a hung jury. He was tried in 20th District Court in June of 1974 and a jury found him insane. He was placed in Rusk State Hospital until declared sane by Rusk and brought back to Cameron for trial.

Stewart waived a jury trial. His attorneys were Ed Magre and John Henderson Jr., both court-appointed. Elmo Parsons, Falls County attorney, was state's attorney and recommended the sentence.

Elbert Watkins and Dean Humpus were the deputies killed by Stewart when they went to his home to pick him up.

The sentence was assessed by retired District Judge W. C. Wallace.

Board Interviews Applicants For Tax Assessor

Cameron school board meeting in a regular session Monday night interviewed two applicants for tax assessor-collector, accepted resignations of faculty members, and approved a textbook committee for the coming school year.

Two Cameron residents, Charlotte Rogers and Lanny French, were interviewed by the board for the tax collector's post which will be vacated by present collector Theo Aschenbeck on December 1. No decision was reached.

The board accepted resignations from Mrs. Betty Harmon, Title I teacher at O. J. Thomas School, and from Forrest Guess, distributive education teacher at Yoe High. Both resignations will become effective on Jan. 7. Board also officially accepted Aschenbeck's resignation.

Supt. Buddy Dulin discussed the Governor's proposals for funding school programs, which would have the state contributing to the local fund assignment in a 90-10 ratio instead of the present 75-25 ratio.

The textbook committee will include: Edward Whitley, Fred Johns, Clara Williams, Patsy Nance, Ada Margaret Smith, Linda Poole, Barbara Burke, Susan Rosson, Helen Huffman, Sherrell Slavik, Patsy Edmonds and Ella Wilkerson. The superintendent and principals will serve as an advisory committee for the textbook representatives.

Expo Building Fund Tops $65,000 Goal

The Youth Exposition Building fund has topped the $65,000 mark, it was announced Tuesday. Ground was broken Saturday for the building foundation and it is expected construction will start soon.

More contributors were listed by fund drive officials:

Milam Electric Service, Eliot Crook, Mosley Electric Service, John S. Batte, Walled Lake Door, Judge W. C. Wallace, Southwestern Bell Telephone, Zink's Food Market, Crow's Termite Control, Dean Trubee.

Also, Milam County 4-H Booster Club, P. J. Armstrong Used Cars, Judge Don Humble, Pitt Grill, Ray Thompson Package Store, Luther Burnett, Safeway Stores, Inc., West Side Package Store, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Widner, Rev. Stanley Vodicka Jr., Rev. Vernon L. Dietrich.

School Out Early

School buses will run at 2:45 p.m. on Thursday and Friday because of quarterly exams. There will be no school Monday, which is a teachers workday, Supt. Buddy Dulin said.

Edward Schiller Dies; Was Local Businessman

Funeral service for Edward O. Schiller, Jr., 57, a Cameron pharmacist who died Sunday, was at 10 a.m. Tuesday in St. Monica Catholic Church with Rev. John Geiser officiating. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Schiller was reportedly returning home from a fishing trip Sunday when he became ill. He was taken by ambulance to a Temple hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Mr. Schiller owned E. O. Schiller Drug Store. He was a past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, past president of the Cameron Noon Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce and a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Marie Schiller of Cameron; sons, Larry Schiller of Taylor, Richard Schiller of Austin, and Bobby and Michael Schiller of Cameron; and two grandchildren.

Commissioners Court To Issue $2.5 Million Bonds For Alcoa

Milam County commissioner adopted a resolution in a meeting Monday enabling them to issue $2 1/2 million in revenue bonds to Alcoa for financing an environmental-control project at its Rockdale Works. The amount will be reimbursed completely by Alcoa.

Alcoa will use the funds for installation of the Alcoa 446 System and related facilities to be constructed for use in removing pollutants from exhaust gases emitted by a carbon baking furnace to be built at Rockdale Works. Site work has begun on the furnace and completion is scheduled for January 1978.

The resolution and any future negotiations are in accordance with terms of the Texas Clean Air Financing Act of 1973 permitting certain governmental subdivisions to aid industries in financing air and water pollution abatement projects.

"The bonds and all direct and overhead expenses would be reimbursed by the company," according to Milam County Judge O. B. Harden. "Milam County residents should understand that no tax money would be used in any manner in the issuance of the bonds. In fact, the use of tax money for such purposes is strictly prohibited by the enabling legislation."

Judge Harden said the commissioners' position in this matter is to be ready to provide a service to the community and its industry by being a vehicle through which Alcoa may secure funds to meet various state and federal pollution control regulations. He emphasized that a venture of this type certainly meets the public-interest test under which the commissioers court operates.

In other business, commissioners authorized a recount of votes in the Precinct 4 commissioner's election upon a written request by the present commissioner, Curtis Hines.

Hines was apparently defeated in the general election by write-in candidate Walter Stolte by a margin of three votes.

A committee consisting of Newton Butts, chairman; Leroy Laffere and Marvin Handrick was appointed to canvass the votes. They started meeting at presstime Wednesday.

The court accepted a low bid of $1,485 from MPH Industries, Inc. of Chanute, Kan. for a new moving radar unit for the Rockdale-based highway patrol car. The bid was the lowest of three received.

The county auditor was authorized to secure bids on insurance for the county for the coming year, bids to be opened at a Decmeber 13 meeting.

Commissioners also accepted a correctionorder from Alcoa on the relocation and partial closing of a county road commonly known as Freezeout Road. The deed will, reflect that the right of way is increased from 50 to 100 feet for the road.

LSG Asks Rate Hike In Buckholts

Lone Star Gas Company's local manager, Grady Allen, today filed an application for a rate increase in Buckholts to provide the company an 8% rate of return.

The company's application would raise the average Buckholts residential customer's bill about $2.46 per month, based on 8 MCF (thousand cubic feet) consumption.

Allen said Lone Star's distribution system serving Buckholts earned a 4.92% rate of return in 1975 and that $3.136 is required to correct the utility's revenue deficiency. He explained that Lone Star has experienced increased costs of operation due to the current inflation, and unrecovered costs of purchased gas which substantially eroded utility earnings.

Swine Flu Clinic Set At Buckholts On Thursday

The Milam County Health Department will hold a Swine Flu Immunization Clinic at the Buckholts school gymnasium, Thursday, Nov. 11 from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

Bivalent vaccine will be administered to all persons 65 years and older and chronically ill persons in the 3 through 64 age group. The chronically ill must present a statement, with diagnosis, from his or her physician that bivalent vaccine should be given.

Monovalent vaccine will be administered to all well persons in the 18 to 64 age group.

Service Proposes Directory For Ambulances

The Cameron Volunteer Ambulance Service, which serves north Milam County, is asking those who may need the services of an ambulance to list special conditions which might affect treatment, for inclusion in a directory to be kept in the ambulance.

A form is being published in this issue of The Herald for persons to fill out and mail to City Hall, listing conditions which are existing and may affect emergency treatment.

These include diabetes, heart condition, taking anticoagulants, epilepsy, contact lenses, glaucoma, neck breather, asthma, implanted pacemaker, drug allergies, insect stings, emphysema, and hemophiliac.

Mrs. Glenda Moseley, spokesman for the service, said this information will be compiled in a directory to be carried on the ambulances, and will allow the attendants to know ahead of time what they may run into and adjust treatment to fit the special conditions in an emergency.

There is no charge for this service, she said. Persons who fill out the form may mail the form to City Hall, or go by City Hall and fill out a form there.

Mrs. Moseley said having this information will enable the volunteer ambulance service to provide better service to residents who may need an ambulance.

Prazak, Peck Named To New Posts At Herald

Two new staff appointments have been announced at The Cameron Herald, including creation of a department for classified advertising and accounting.

Herald staffer Gerry Prazak, formerly with the Houston Post, is now handling classified advertising and accounting, according to Business Manager Clydell Seaton.

And staff photographer Mike Peck has been named to succeed Forrest Guess as Herald sports editor-photographer. Guess is going to Houston to enter law school at South Texas College of Law.

From A Loss Never Greater

Democratic National Chairman Robert S. Strauss, of Dallas, has announced an "irrevocable" decision to step aside after the Democratic triumph for the White House.

Strauss, in effect, brought the Democratic Party from the 61 plus percentile loss to Richard Nixon in 1972 to a 51 plus percentile win for Jimmy Carter.

Jimmy Carter won enough primaries early on to outdistance the established Democratic hierarchy for the nomination, but Strauss and the Democratic regulars pulled things together in late September to get Carter the edge he was losing until the second Presidential Debate.

Carter's choice of Walter Mondale for running mate was munificent enough in labor support to eke out wins in Ohio, Wisconsin, and Pennyslvania for the electoral edge.

Strauss' Texas seemed to turn to Carter in the last 10 days, thanks to a vote blitz and Carter's revisit to Texas' Alamo and Fort Worth.

Like John Kennedy's choice of Lyndon Johnson, Carter's selection of Fritz Mondale proved a decisive entry into the Democratic faithful. And Carter had Strauss' connections and continuity from the Johnson years in the White House which no doubt led to Strauss' elevation to party treasurer and finally to its four-year chairmanship.

The scenario would have been a different one if Watergate, in all its pointlessness, had not occurred. Nixon appeared to have reconstructed a "new majority" in 1972, much like the one which disintegrated in Vietnam for LBJ.

That "majority" almost gave Jerry Ford a term of his own because of lingering doubts about the Carter candidacy.

The clout that Strauss represents in national politics will not be so direct. But it will continue. The day-to-day control of Democratic influence will move somewhere outside Texas for a time, as surely as Carter's forces in effect ran a campaign in each state from Georgia. It was likely Strauss dominated when this approach faltered in early fall.

This "unseen hand" is withdrawing to his law firm in Dallas, at 59 satisfied that his contribution was ever more than fund raising, which is essential, that his organizational gifts had conditioned the primary system to produce a winner, when four years earlier the loss was never greater.

Depopulation Relief

Major-city mayors are first to ask the Carter Administration for help.

Wisely or not, neither the President nor Jimmy Carter articulated any policy toward dealing with the awesome, if not impossible, tasks awaiting urban solution.

An urban development bank, an "urban antirecession" program, a national urban policy are several of the proposals the U. S. Conference of Mayors postulated.

One of the first items to emerge was some sort of federal financing for New York City, which only a year ago was considered so poorly managed that federal aid could alleviate, but not solve its problems.

That summation is still viable. If New York City goes on federal payroll, it might as well become the federal city of New York state.

Quickly, then, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, San Francisco, to name but a few, would be federalized branches of the U. S. Treasury.

The needs are immediate and enormous. Most observers know that. But a continuous support of urban centralization and ineptitudes would lead finally to an urban society without local control, adding to the diminishing identity in most urban sprawl, among most Americans.

Relief is critical, but should it be permanent? Is not the migration away from central cities, even swollen suburbs and back to small-city, small-town America the solution?

Perhaps a decade ago, the State of California created what it called a "Commission on De-Population." Anyone visiting the swollen environs along the California coast from San Diego to San Francisco would understand "why" such a commission.

That proposal, that depopulation standard, also should be raised by megapolis mayors for Washington and Jimmy Carter, and yes, the Congress, to see.

Briscoe Backs School Plan

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is backing an $850 million boost in state spending for schools.

He unveiled his plan to a meeting of school officials here last week.

Addressing 3,000 school superintendents and board members, he also specified this condition: his legislation is conditioned on establishment by lawmakers of a ceiling on local school taxes.

A key provision in the Briscoe program would hike the state's share of support for the Foundation School Program from 75 per cent to 90 per cent of the total, at a cost of $640 million. The state now spends about $2 billion a year on the program.

Indications are the resulting decrease in "local fund assignment" would bring a saving to taxpayers of about 26 cents on the $100 property valuation.

Briscoe also presented proposed new market value statistics for school districts, estimating the state's taxable property for school purposes is $238 billion, an increase of $78 million over the values used by legislators in writing the 1975 school finance act.

The governor's program did not provide money for an increase in teacher salaries, although he may make a separate recommendation later.

Briscoe also suggested a $50 million increase in school operating and maintenance spending, a $25 million increase in transportation allocations, $15 million for staffing in small rural schools, a $100 million increase in equalization aid for districts with low tax bases and $10 million to upgrade school district tax offices.

Revenues Increase

Texas state government collected a record $8 billiin in revenue during fiscal 1976 and spent $6.4 billion, leaving a cash balance of $1.6 billion. The balance increased by $200 million since the beginning of the fiscal year, according to Comptroller Bob Bullock's annual report.

Bullock said total state revenues climbed 16 per cent over fiscal 1975 levels, while expenditures rose 15.3 per cent.

"Texans regained confidence in the economy quicker than the average national consumer, and their spending — combined with inflation — pushed all consumer tax revenues to new highs," Bullock said. "And oil and gas production tax income has never faltered."

Bullock calculated tax revenues of 3.9 billion, $1.8 billion in federal funds, $340 million in licenses and fees, $234 million in investment income and $246 million in income from state-owned lands.

State government finances and the Texas economy "have grown as strong as a Brahma bull," according to the comptroller.

Seadock Approved

Gov. Briscoe announced approval of the application of Seadock Inc. to construct and operate a deepwater port off the Texas coast.

Briscoe, acting under responsibilities as chief executive officer of the coastal state adjacent to the project, notified U. S. Secretary of Transportation William T. Coleman Jr. of his decision.

He said the application has had attention of 21 state and local agencies and has been found to provide sufficient environmental protection and modern design technology.

The project would be located 26 miles southeast of Freeport and would have initial capacity to offload 2.5 million barrels of oil daily from very large crude carriers (VLCC's) and other oil freighters.

Courts Speak

When a person is committed to a mental institution indefinitely, there should be no "reasonable doubt" of insanity, the Third Court of Civil Appeals held.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the death penalty of a man for killing a store manager he had robbed two weeks earlier.

Texas Supreme Court held a High Plains water district has authority to order a landowner to re-equip his underground well more than six years after the drilling permit was issued.

The Supreme Court again turned down a state effort to try as an adult a youth charged with killing an airman in 1974. The crime took place nine days before the slayer's 17th birthday.

AG Opinions

Texas law does not prohibit minicipalities from being local prime sponsors under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act if permitted by local charter to provide the types of services contemplated by CETA, Atty. Gen. John Hill said.

Counties also may serve as sponsors under statutory duties to provide for poor persons. The State Board for Vocational Education may impose reasonable limitations in providing vocational education services to prime sponsors with CETA funds appropriated through the governor, Hill continued.

In another opinion, Hill concluded an agreement between the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners and Texas State Board of Landscape Architects is invalid in its effort to exempt persons performing plumbing or landscape irrigation work from licensing requirements.

Appointments

Richard D. Latham will succeed Roy W. Mouer as State Securities Commissioner January 1. Latham is enforcement division director for the commission.

Gov. Briscoe appointed Lynn Ingalsbe of Abilene criminal district attorney for the 42nd and 104th judicial districts (Callahan, Jones and Taylor counties), succeeding Ed Paynter of Abilene who resigned.

Short Snorts

The Animal Health Commission has scheduled a November 16 meeting to discuss the fever tick eradication program.

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is opposing construction of Wallisville Lake on the Lower Trinity River.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Some random notes on the election:

I asked a friend, 'Well, did the election go to suit you?" and he said: "No election ever goes to suit me."

Some people are always speculating on what influence television commentators and big syndicated newspaper columnists have on an election.

Well, for one thing this time they taught us the meaning of the word apathy: a large voter turn-out.

I wouldn't be surprised to see some young person running for his first office the next election tell his supporters : "Let's go out and get people stirred up. If we can get an apathetic turn-out, we'll win."

You see, big-time reporters work on the domino theory. If one of them finds a small pocket of people saying they don't intend to vote and reports on it, other reporters start looking for similar pockets and before you know it they're all reporting the country is apathetic. The public opinion polls take it up and for the next few months it's the theme song of the media. This may explain why the Mayor of New York, kidding some reports, said media is the Latin plural for mediocre.

As for the public opinion polls, I don't know how much they spend sampling the voters but they could have saved their money by going off by themselves and figuring that when you've got two ordinarily decent, likeable men running for President, neither one of whom can raise or lower taxes himself--that's done by Congress--you're likely to have a fairly close vote.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

It would take over one million earths to fill the interior of the sun.

With our connections, we can supply all the gas you'll need.

Lone Star's existing gas reserves will meet the requirements of all of our customers for the next 12½ years, based on 1975 consumption rates.

What about the thirteenth year – and beyond – when these reserves are depleted?

Fortunately, Lone Star is in a position to buy new gas reserves that could last our customers far into the 21st century.

Lone Star's pipeline system enters eight of the nine major gas producing areas in Texas and Oklahoma.

Our transmission lines cross areas which contain over 50% of the remaining on-shore gas reserves in the continental U.S.

All we need is the money to buy ahead. The price of gas will keep increasing, because producers will have to drill much deeper and more costly wells to develop new reserves.

It's going to take a lot of money to secure this area's share of these reserves. Unfortunately, Lone Star's ability to bid successfully for new reserves hinges greatly on the existence of adequate rates for the gas we sell.

The time to begin an aggressive resupply program is now, while we have a competitive buying edge and while economical gas is available.

With a fair return on our necessary investment, we can make the long-term financial commitments that will assure our customers all the natural gas they'll need for decades to come.
And we will.

New Tax Legislation Affects Estate Planning

The new tax legislation that has just become law will have a big effect on farm and ranch families, contends Tom Prater, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Most of the legislation is effective after Dec. 31, 1976, although gifts are effective as of Sept. 8, and trusts as of April 30.

"One item in the legislation that will affect the estate planning and management of Texas farm and ranch families will be the 'current use base' for establishing the value of farm and ranch lands," says Prater. "This will reduce the valuation below the fair market value approach which is now used."

However, there are qualification considerations for using the "current use" value:

--50 percent or more of the adjusted value of the gross estate consists of real and personal farm and ranch property and passes to a qualified heir (member of family).

--25 percent or more of the adjusted value of the gross estate consists of such real property.

--Such properties use for which five of the past eight years before the descendant's death was qualified and was used in business an in which the descendant or a member of the decendants family materially participated.

"The new tax law will also increase the exemption level as far as estate taxes are concerned," points out Prater. "A unified tax table would include estate taxes and gifts."

The economist cites these examples of estate taxes. Starting in 1977, there will be a tax credit of $30,000 for any estate having a death; $34,000 in 1978; $38,000 in 1979; $42,500 in 1980; and $47,000 in 1981 and thereafter. Comparing this to the exemption equivalent would mean $120,667 in 1977; $134-000 in 1978; $147,333 in 1979; $161,563 in 1980; and $175-625 in 1981 per individual.

The new tax bill also provides a change in marital deducations, enabling one spouse to leave $250,000 or one-half of the estate, whichever is greater, to the surviving spouse. In addition to this deduction, there is an additional $100,000 lifetime marital deducation gift exemption that one spouse can give to the other spouse with no tax, notes Prater. This has to come from separate property.

"Another important feature is the privilege of paying estate taxes over 15 years at 4 percent interst if 65 percent of the adjusted tax estate qualifies as a farm, ranch, or closely held business. The federal government will have a first lien on property during this period of tax payout," explains Prater.

The recapture of estate taxes is also affected by the new legislation. If a farm or ranch is sold out of a family within 10 years, estate taxes on the total fair market value can be recaptured. If the property is held 10 to 15 years, the taxes can be partially recaptures.

State of Texas inheritance laws remain the same.

"All of these plus other changes brought on by the new tax legislation make it important for managers and owners of farms and ranches to review and revise estate plans so that all management opportunities are realized," emphasizes Prater.

Seminar For Estate Planning Set

New tax legislation affecting estate planning is of prime interest to farmers and ranchers. And the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is trying to do as much as possible to enlighten agricultural producers on this issue.

A major effort in Extension's educational program relating to estate planning will be a seminar Dec. 9-10 at the Rudder Center on the Texas A&M University campus.

The two-day event will deal with many of the key points in estate planning, with particular emphasis on the estate planning section of the 1976 tax reform bill. Also discussed will be the preparation of estate tax returns, community property as it relates to estate tax, various forms of farm ownership, transfers of property, estate liquidity problems, and estate administration, points out Tom E. Prater, Extension economist in management and chairman of the upcoming seminar.

Five major areas of estate planning will be discussed in depth in special work sessions--legal matters, trust aspects, tax considerations, Interal Revenue Service procedures, and insurance.

FB Adopts Three New Resolutions

The Milam County Farm Bureau has adopted resolutions concerning a proposed dam, taxes on mineral production, and the halt of county expenditure for a county wolf trapper.

The resolutions follow:

--Due to the ever - increasing importance of agriculture production to feed and clothe the growing population of the world and the very limited yield of the proposed dam, we oppose the Cameron dam being in the Texas Water Plan and urge its removal.

--We support the position of adding to the tax base of the county the value of all mineral production. This should include all mineral production -- oil, coal, etc -- is to have a value tax paid on it just as land, improvements or other assets do.

--We support the termination of the county's subsidy of the government trapper's salary. Our position is that money could be spent more beneficially if a bounty program were initiated. We recommend $10 per coyote or wolf only and that a county landowner verify the kill so outside - of - county kills could not collect Milam County funds.

County Agents Notes

By Bill McCutchen

Perry Leutge of Rockdale brought by the largest sweet potato I have ever seen. He told me how much it weighed, but I have forgotten and you wouldn't believe me anyway if you hadn't seen it yourself.

Perry is one of the better truck crop producers in the county and if he could grow peanuts that large he just might be the next Secretary of Agriculture.

Sprialing Inflation

We all hope the new administration will do something about spiraling inflation. Joe Vrazel brought some receipts by from the 1950s and they illustrate part of what has happened since that time.

Two hundred and fifty gallons of butane in the 50s was about $20. It cost 4¢ a pound dressed weight to get beef processed. Cotton in 1950 was worth about as much per pound as it was in 1975. I admit that the 1976 market is considerably more healthy.

Charges for ginning, bagging , and ties in 1950 was about $10.50 per bale. Seed from a bale was worth about $36.50, leaving a balance to the farmer for seed over ginning costs of about $26.

In 1976 seed from an equivalent bale of cotton is worth about the same with ginning costs exceeding the worth of the seed by about $16 per bale.

Let me hasten to add that I don't blame the businesses, and I don't think Joe does either, as they are having the same problem keeping their heads above water, but it does point out the inflationary pressures we are living with. I am not familiar with the butane business, but I know a lot of gins and processing firms that have had to close their doors since the 1950s.

Everyone suffers from inflation, but probably no one suffers more than the farmer or rancher who has no way of passing through his increased costs to the consumer as other industries do.

Cottonseed Bargain Cow Feed

Both cow-calf producers and cotton farmers could benefit by doing some business with each other this year.

It cattlemen would boost their winter feed supply by purchasing whole cottonseed from cotton farmers, they would be able to save on feed costs while at the same time helping cotton farmers sell their cottonseed.

Cottonseed was once a common cow feed, but is use has declined in recent years as the value of cottonseed oil has increased, points out Dr. Dennis Herd and Don Parks, beef cattle specialist and area economist, respectively, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cattlemen now commonly feed cotton oil by-products such as cottonseed meal, cubes, and hulls. But current cottonseed and feed prices indicate that feeding whole cottonseed should be reconsidered.

Mexico was the major importer of breeding livestock through Texas Department of Agriculture facilities, buying 11,153 head of dairy cattle and 1,893 head of various beef breeds, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

MARTHA WASHINGTON PECAN BARS

1 cup (6 oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese
1/3 cup light cream
½ cup chopped pecans
1-½ cups all-purpose flour
½ tsp. baking powder
¾ cup sugar
½ cup butter, softened
1 egg
¼ tsp. almond extract

Combine chocolate pieces, cream cheese and light cream in saucepan. Melt over low heat, stirring constantly until melted. Add chopped pecans, blend well and set aside. In a large bowl, combine flour, baking powder, sugar and butter. Blend as for piecrust until particles are fine. Add egg and almond extract and toss lightly to combine. Press half the mixture into an oiled 11 x 7-inch pan. Spread with chocolate mixture and sprinkle remaining crumbs on top. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 minutes. Cool and cut into bars. Yield: 20 bars.

TURKEYS FOR HOLIDAY MEALS--Abundant supplies of turkeys and broilers can be expected for the upcoming holidays. According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, the number of turkey eggs set and hatched during the early part of October increased over last year's figures.

Good Supplies of Poultry Despite High Production Costs

AUSTIN--Texas poultry producers have increased production of broilers and turkeys this fall and abundant supplies can be expected for the approaching holidays.

"Many poultry producers are facing higher production costs every month," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White noted. "But when you figure the cost of feeding, slaughtering and marketing poultry these days, chicken and turkey are among the best buys in the supermarket."

With 4,035,000 eggs set and 3,254,000 chicks hatched, steady supplies of chicken should continue, White said.

For the period of August 28 to October 2, weekly increases of 9 to 26 percent over last year are recorded for broilers in the state.

Chicks placed for production during the week ending October 2 numbered 3,201,000.

Turkey poults hatched during the week ending October 2 totaled 104,000. The number of eggs set during the same period increased 39 percent over 1975, to 289,000.

Can Recycling Sets Records

Adolph Coors Company's "cash-for-cans" recycling program for aluminum beverage cans continues to set recycling records throughout the 11 participating states.

Since its inception January 1, 1970, the program has accounted for $31,531,865 in cash payouts to the public for returning beer and soft drink aluminum cans to Coors distributors.

The total amount of aluminum container collected since the program began is 245,160,587 pounds. At an estimated 24¢ per pound, 5,883,854,088 beverage cans have passed through the Coors recycling program.

A spokesman for the Golden-basee brewer said 1.2 million cans have been collected in 1976 through the 200 independent distributors.

The voluntaryenvironmental effort has amassed a total of 51,415,104 pounds of aluminum since the beginning of our bicentennial year and cash payouts to the public has reached $8 million.

A major reason for the success of the program, according to Coors, is the concerted effort by Coors distributors to make participation in the program more convenient.

Seed Tag Changed For 1977

Farmers buying certified seed to plant their 1977 crop should pay particular attention to the labels on the seed bag--there's been a change.

"Certified seed sold after January 1 next year must bear two labels--one certifying the variety and the other indicating a number of seed quality factors," points out Dr. Robert B. Metzer, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Whereas in the past, seed was certified for both variety and quality factors, the certification now pertains only to the genetic identity of the seed. However, since the Texas seed law still requires that seed quality information be truthfully stated, an analysis label must also accompany all certified seed, explains Metzer.

"The analysis label will tell the farmer such things as purity, inert matter, other crop seed, weed seed, noxious week seed and germination," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "The fact that the see is certified has nothing to do with these particular factors."

Metzer explains the new certification labeling this way. "Take cottonseed, for example. TAMCOT SP37 sold as certified seed must bear a label (blue in color) that indicates that the seed is indeed the SP37 variety. The certification label will show net weight, kind and variety and who produced the seed, but nothing on quality factors. A second label on the seed bag will list the various quality factors mentioned above and will tell the farmer the percentage that the seed contains, such as the percent of weed seed.

"The main thing for farmers to remember when buying certified seed for the 1977 crop is to look at both labels on the seed bag," emphasizes Metzer. "Both labels must be checked to get the complete story on the seed."

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

If you like citrus, a report from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service should make you happy.

Texas' 1976-77 citrus crop based on Oct. 1 conditions is forecast at 17,700,000 boxes. This year's production is expected to be five per cent more than a year ago and 49 per cent above the small crop of 1974-75.

Grapefruit production is set at 11,500,000 boxes, seven per cent above last season's crop. Production of all oranges is expected to total 6,200,000 boxes, the same as a year ago. Early and mid-season oranges are forecast at 3,800,000 boxes and Valencia oranges are forecast at 2,400,000 boxes.

Citrus trees are currently in good condition.

Nationwide, grapefruit production is forecast at a record crop of 75,700,000 boxes; this is a 13 per cent increase over a year ago. Orange production is estimated to be 12 per cent above last year.

COTTON PRODUCTION FOR TEXAS is now forecast lower than a month ago due to weather conditions. Sorghum and corn estimates are unchanged from a month ago.

Upland cotton production is now estimated at 3,000,000 bales, down four per cent from a month ago but still above the 1975 production.

Sorghum production is unchanged at 318,000,000 bushels. This is 15 per cent below last year, however. Harvest of the crop is now about 75 per cent complete.

Corn production is still set at 161,000,000 bushels, with record yields reported.

Pecan production is set at 27,000,000 pounds, which is 70 per cent under a year ago.

Peanut production is now forecast at 475,850,000 pounds, which is three per cent more than last year.

Rice production is now expected to be four per cent more than a year ago.

PROSPECTS FOR WHEAT PASTURE in Texas are good in most areas due to recent rains. Very little grazing has been available until recently.

Range and pasture conditions have improved in most areas due to rains. Winter grazing on the High Plains is expected to be limited because the rains came too late to allow ranges to fully recover from the drought.

'75 Dairy Statistics Published

AUSTIN--The 1975 Texas Dairy Statistics book has been published, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

The twenty-page booklet lists statistics on the number of milk cows in Texas, annual milk production, leading dairy counties in Texas and much other information.

To obtain a free copy of the publication, write Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

JAMES LEE

Navy Engineman First Class James C. Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lee Jr. of Rt. 3, Cameron, participated in the Navy's 201st Birthday Celebration in San Francisco.

He is a crewmember aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Fox, part of a special six-ship Navy task force that visited San Francisco from Oct. 8-13.

During the five-day stopover between at-sea training periods, more than 46-000 visitors toured the ships. The task group was under the command of Vice Admiral Samuel L. Gravly, the Commander of the U. S. Third Fleet.

A country gets to be two hundred years old! All at once flags are billowing against the azure sky, people are waving red, white and blue banners, souvenir buttons and coins and all sorts of keepsakes are for sale. But what's it really all about?

As countries go, we're in the prime of life, but we're still old enough to know better about a lot of things.

So, on our united birthday, it might be a good idea to sit down and think about where we've been and where we're going. Let's conjecture about democracy. Let's realize that under our system, we can change things in an orderly fashion. And let's give thanks for our blessings, because we Americans still have many of them.

You need a place in which to think, in which to give thanks. The right kind of a place. How about the church?

Happening about town

Gerry Prazak, Area Editor

TRTA

Dr. Henry Bonorder, President TSTA District 6, Superintendent of Hearne Public Schools, life member TSTA and Rotary International, adult church school teacher and Methodist layman addressed the Milam County Retired Teachers Association with 24 members and one guest, Ethel Drgac, present at the meeting.

Doris Gleason, President, called the meeting to order by asking the group to enter into silent prayer for the newly elected local, state and national officials of the U. S. and gave the invocation.

Margie Ireland, First vice-president, introduced the program which was designed to lead those interested in services to identify community needs as worthy Retired Teachers contributions to their several communities.

Edrie Browder, program chairman, introduced Dr. Henry Bonorder, who spoke on "Retired Teachers' Role in Community Affairs." He introduced his topic by saying that teachers and retired teachers alike are respected as leaders because of their love, understanding and dedication for their work. The slogan for the Community Affairs program was "Serve and Not Be Served." He encouraged retired teachers to be concerned with health programs, defensive driving programs, community improvement programs, such as museums, library, hospital and nursing homes. This public service program can be as broad as the local individual concerns can reach. Dr. Bonorder's clincher remark was "Bread Cast Upon The Water" will return in money, love, time, talent, faith and a fruitful life.

Ruby Arledge reviewed the main address of the TSTA District 6 which Dr. Thomas J. Shipp, Pastor of Laurel Lane Methodist Church, Dallas, gave.

Dr. Shipp said "Whoever wins the people will control the world tomorrow." The teacher who cares has the key to point the way to a rewarding life by being the kind of person who is respected loved, trusted and too honest to take the short cuts in an attempt to win. Many students get an education and are successful in life because a teacher cared.

Doris Gleason gave the highlights of the progress made in TRTA legislation as was presented by Maymie Carlin, first vice president TRTA at the luncheon in College Station on Nov. 1.

Margie Ireland reported that the TRTA policy ably pictured in posters were political action focused on issues. It is non-partisan, it reflects community needs, it is guided by views of leaders and members. Any and all action should be carried out with dignity.

The yearbooks were distributed.

The meeting adjourned to meet Wednesday at 2 on January 5, 1977.

The Purple Heart medal was originated by George Washington in 1782. Only three or four were awarded during the American Revolution.

Open House Set At Day Care Center

The Cameron Day Care Center will hold an open house this Sunday, Nov. 14 from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. The center is located at 212 N. Travis.

The Center has been in operation since October, 1972 and during the years has served over 50 families and more than 75 children. At present it is filled to capacity with 23 children from 20 families.

The Center serves two main purposes: to provide child care and supervision for low-income mothers who must work to provide necessities for the home and to provide Christian care and training for those who might otherwise have little chance to receive such training.

Tests have shown that those who have such training are much better able to do the work expected of them on the kindergarten and first grade level than those from homes where such training is not given.

Mrs. Lucille Gelner is director and Mrs. Irene Simmons is assistant director. Teachers are Mrs. Linda Lara, Mrs. Johnie Mae Byrd and Miss Kathy Johnson.

The Center is funded by the State Department of Public Welfare 70% and local fund 30%. These localfunds come fromthe First United Methodist Church which donates the rent for the building, from the United Fund, from local churches, and from individuals

Two church groups have promised to give on a monthly basis. These are groups within a congregation. Other churches have put the Center in their budget for the year. Still others have a special offering or give a gift once a year.

Meetings

Pleasure & Profit

The Pleasure and Profit Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. J. J. Heitman. Hostesses served dessert with hot spiced apple juice.

Thirteen members and one guest, Mrs. David Synatzsky of Rockda of Rockdsprings. President Mrs. Jean Tumlinson conducted a short business meeting, after which the program was turned over to Maurice Heitman who entertained the group with a review of the book "Penny Candy" by Jean Kerr.

Porcelain Art Guild

The Cameron Porcelain Art Club met on Thursday evening for the monthly business meeting. There were sixteen members and three guests present. Mrs. Daisy Fry was welcomed as a new member to the club.

After the business meeting Lillian Burrier demonstrated painting wild roses. Wilma McCollum won the door prize, a piece of hand painted china donated by Mrs. Burrier.

Refreshments were enjoyed by the members and guests at the close of the meeting.

Church Women United

Church Women United's last celebration of 1976 in Bethel A.M.E. Church with 40 present from eight of the ten member churches on Friday, November 5. Offering was $47 which goes to Inter - Continental Missions this year to women in the West Indies, women in Mississippi Delta and women in a project in India.

Sister Pauline was guest speaker.

Hooki Boshi 'Night Spot For Women'

TOKYO Reuter--In a myriad of tiny bars, massage parlors, sex shops, and sleazy photo salons stands Hooki Boshi, the first night spot in Tokyo owned and run by Japanese feminists.

Its appearance is a sign that the women's liberation movement is making an impact in Japan, a bastion of male supremacy.

Hooki Boshi means comet star, and the new bar in the heart of Shinjuku's nightland is a beacon for supporters of the feminist group of the same name founded by its five owners.

As hostesses and Mama-Sans (manageresses), women have traditionally played an important role in running the Japanese night world, which until recently has cattered almost exclusively for male customers.

According to stereotype, the golden-hearted Mama-San affectionately mothers or admonishes her regular customers from behind the counter, while the acquiescent hostess pours drinks, lights cigarettes and otherwise props up faltering male egos at the end of a hard day at the office.

In the Hooki Boshi bar, however, women smile and laugh because they feel like it. When they talk and listen to others, it's because they are interested, not because they are paid to.

"The reason we opened Hookie Boshi was because we ourselves had nowhere to go. People who open bars have no idea what we need these days. They either exclude women totally from the drinking world, or make tea-salons too formal to relax in," says 28-year-old Sumi Iwatsuki, one of the founding members.

A women's activist since dropping out of university, the extroverted Iwatsuki-San stopped the record player to entertain guests from the upright piano which stands in a corner of the tiny bar.

The bar opens in the afternoon, when it is usually filled only with women who use the place to arrange meetings and conferences, and to prepare for the next women's majo (witch) concert, a light-hearted show satirizing some of the worst features of Japanese male chauvinism.

By seven o'clock, the first regulars are dropping in to eat, and by nine the place is crammed with dancers, musicians, artists, designers, and photographers, both male and female.

It is from this artistic fringe of society that Japanese feminists draw their main support.

"Japanese people who believe the press," says folk singer Keiko Matsunaga, 24, a regular customer, "think that women's liberation ~~women~~ are near-abnormal, hysterical people with no sense of fun.

"Of course the movement is serious, but that doesn't mean women are serious all the time, which is why so many people, particularly men, are surprised when they first come here."

By their own admission, Japanese feminists feel they have not given enough consideration to their personal problems in their struggle for liberation.

Hooki Boshi is a place where women--and men--who feel the movement is part of their way of life can meet and discuss both its personal and political aspects.

Late into the night, as the drunks from neighboring bars stagger past outside, conversations become highly animated, covering topics traditionally taboo in mixed company such as menstration and virginity.

Contributions and often amusing revelations fly back and forth between female and male customers clustered around the tables.

"People come here for fun," continues Iwatsuki - San, "but Hooki Boshi is an information - gathering point too. All these books are for loan," she say pointing to the stacked shelves lining one whole wall.

Unlike most other bars, Hooki Boshi keeps prices low and does not attempt to encourage a large tournover of customers.

Iwatsuki - San shrugs her shoulders: "the place is small and people spend whole evenings here so we don't expect to make high profits. We haven't even bought a cash register. But as long as people keep coming, we are determined to keep Hooki Boshi open."

TP&L Controversy Settled On Scrubber Installation

Texas Power & Light Company officials have announced resolution of the controversy involving installation of emmission-screening equipment at an East Texas power plant.

Texas Utilities Services, Inc. (TUSI), a Texas Power & Light affiliate, will install a so-called "scrubber" system to remove sulpher dioxide from stack gases on a generating unit at the Monticello lignite-fueled power plant near Mount Pleasant.

The Monticello plant is owned jointly by Texas Power & Light, Dallas Power & Light, and Texas Electric Service Company. All three are part of the Texas Utilities Company system.

The unit for which the "scrubber" will be installed is the third at the Monticello plant. It is due to go into operation in 1978.

The controversy began in 1975 when Texas Utilities Company chairman T. L. Austin Jr. informed the Texas Air Quality Control Board the company would not install the scrubber. Austin termed the system "unproven" and regulations requiring it "arbitrary." He noted it would be an extremely expensive addition to the plant's cost of construction and operation.

The State Attorney General, acting for the TACB, filed suit in Titus County district court. That case has now been dismissed with the TUSI agreement to install the scrubber.

Sutin stated he has not changed his position that the scrubber is a "rip-off to our customers. The cost of owning and operating this one unit will be $8-10 million a year and that will have to be passed on to customers in future rate increases."

In referring to the suit, Austin said, "Our quarrel is not with the TACB or Attorney General Hill. The TACB is doing a good job and we realize they are only doing what the law requires them to do--enforce environmental protection agency regulations. General Hill's responsibility is to represent the TACB in this enforcement."

"However," he continued, "it has now become clear that continuing to oppose this suit at the state level would result in lengthly court proceedings and costly delay in operations of the new Monticello unit."

"Even though we lost this round," Austin said, "we still intend to try to protect the interest of our customers. We will continue to oppose unreasonable federal environmental regulations that will place an additional burden of millions of dollars of unnecessary costs on customers in the future."

Colonial Nursing Home News

A birthday party for patients with birthdays in October was held October 26. Hostesses for the party were Ladies of the Abiding Savior Lutheran Church. Those honored were Mrs. Lois Mullinax and Mrs. Gertrude Harrise.

The residents enjoyed a Halloween party given by the activity directors from both homes. Patients attending the party from the Cameron Nursing Home were: Mrs. Lola Davis, Mrs. Frances Stobner, Mrs. Lula Wilkerson, Mrs. Josie Weide, Mrs. Eva Lott, Oren McAnulty, Thomas Williams, Ab. Fisher, Lee Marek Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smitherman and daughter furnished the entertainment with old fashioned gospel music. The party was also visited by the monsters. Everyone had a great time.

Tuesdays are a special day at the home with the residents looking forward to an hour of old time fiddle tunes furnished by Archie Donaho on the violin, Jessie White on the guitar and Jake Johnson on the banjo.

Don't forget to come to our Arts & Crafts Bazaar Monday, Nov. 15 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Because his company made a profit, Joe's job is more secure. And Joe regularly shares in his company's growth through periodic pay increases.

That's one of the beautiful attributes of the free enterprise system. It rewards diligence, efficiency and ability in both labor and management. There's extra incentive in helping your company make a profit — because a profitable company makes a better employer than an unprofitable one. It's also more of an asset to its community, the state and the nation.

In a controlled economy, rewards are taken from those who earn them — and given to those who are unproductive. This reduces incentive to raise productivity and weakens the entire fabric of the economy.

Ralph Wilson Plastics Company believes in a free, competitive economy with all its risks and rewards. RWP employees — both management and labor — have made it a profitable company. And, for this reason, it's been able to offer better jobs to more people — and to make a meaningful contribution to the area's economy. A typical case of individuals working together to make good things happen in a climate of economic and individual freedom.

This is #4 in a series of messages on "the free enterprise system" to be brought to you by Ralph Wilson Plastics Company, manufacturers of Wilson Art brand laminated plastic and other products of quality and value for the building industry.

Yoe JV Defeats Manor, 16-14

The Yoe Freshmen and JV teams started the winning motion on Thursday night over Manor. The motion carried through Friday night as all high school teams scored wins over Manor.

Thursday night in Manor the Yoe freshmen defeated Manor 20-8. In the JV game Yoe won 16-14.

In the freshman game the Yoemen were able to increase their win-loss record to 2-6 for the season.

The Yoe Frosh won the toss and received the ball. On the first possession they drove 65 yards to get an early touchdown.

Dennis Rosemond plunged in from 2 yards out after the Yoe offense methodically marched on the ground the entire distance of foreign soil. The PAT for two failed, giving the freshmen a slim 6-0 lead.

The freshmen scored again as soon as they regained possession and this time marched 45 yards to increase their lead.

Chris Riola broke from 12 yards out to set foot in pay dirt. The PAT failed, giving the Yoe freshmen a 12-0 lead in the first quarter.

All 20 points were scored in the first half of play when Dow Dodd connected with Terry Lowe on a 35 yard pass that set the Yoe offense on the 12 yard line.

Dow Dodd, on the quarterback sneak, plunged in from one yard out to add the valuable insurance policy. The PAT for two was good when Rosemond sneaked in on an end sweep.

At the half intermission, the Yoe freshmen held an impressive 20-0 lead.

Manor's only score and real offensive threat came on the first offnsive possession of the second half. Manor scored from 2 yards out and the PAT was successful.

Defensive standouts included Dow Dodd with one interception; Grady Butler with three interceptions; Chris Riola, Terry Lowe, and Greg Landmark.

It was a come-from-behind win for the Yoe JV when they faced a 14-point deficit after the first two quarters of play.

In the first two quarters Coach Roy Knight said, "They just marched the ball right down us. We just weren't ready to play."

On the first offensive possession of the second half the Yoe offense drove the pork 70 yards to set up their first score. With a balance attack of the passing-running game, the Yoe JV drew their first score.

Billy Pittman blasted across the magic line from 5 yards out on a dive up the middle. Lawrence Lowe tacked on the 2 point conversion when he plunged across into pay dirt. Manor was still in command 12-8.

In the fourth quarter the Yoe offense was given a breath of hope when Edward Steamer intercepted a Manor pass.

Mid-way through the final stanza quarterback Steamer tossed a pass to Edward Johnson who fought his way to the 2 yard line.

On the very next play Lowe powered his way across the remaining 2 yards to knotched the score 14-14.

On the PAT Steamer faked the extra point and sailed around the right end and gave the Yoemen the winning advantage 16-14.

Defensive standouts included Gary Stevens and Ray Riley.

Both Yoe teams will face Pflugerville in the final game of the season. The game is scheduled for 6 and 7:30 p.m. respectively at the Yoe High field.

Yoemen To Battle Winless Pflugerville In Final Test

In the final game of the season the Cameron Yoemen will face winless Pflugerville. The Pflugerville Panthers are 0-6 in district play but are 2-7-0 for the season.

Growth pains have hurt the Panthers, and with a growing school systems it's hard for an athletic system to keep up with the pace. Last year the Panthers were 4-6 for the season in Class A football.

Hard luck has hit their 1976 efforts as well. Sporting only 5 offensive returnees and 5 defensive regulars has handicapped their district efforts.

The Panther offense behind the senior leadership of Jimmy Havins has guided the offense to only 109 points for the season. This mark averages 12 points a game.

From their split backfield the Panthers will put in a few razzle dazzle plays to confuss their opponents defenders.

Quarterback Havins will depend mostly on the running game but when he does go to the air he will depend on the hands of senior end Jimmy Habecker.

Across the offensive line the Panthers will line up a heavy front force averaging 186 pounds on the line and 176 pounds in the backfield.

This will be one of the heaviest and laroest lines that the Yoe defense has faced this season.

Coach Ed Cauley said, "They are a fine looking bunch. They have good size and they can move real well. On paper they look to have a respectable ball team. All there loses have been pretty their losses have been pretty close with the exception of Rockdale."

Defense could be the key weakness of the Panther outfit. The defense has given up 169 points this season which averages 18 points a game.

Their defensive line will also be one of the biggest that the Yoemen have faced. The defensive front line tips the scales at 190 pounds per man and the defensive secondary weighs in at 162 pounds on the average.

The Panther defense will line up to stop the running game. The defense will line up in a 9 man front and will go from head-up to shooting the gaps.

In the defensive secondary the Panthers will set Havins and Moorehead up in a halfback position. The 2 seniors will be responsible in stopping their opponents passing game.

Cauley said, "There defensive alignment sure makes it inviting to throw the ball. But, that might just be a trap to get you to throw against them."

The Panthers will start 6 seniors on their offense and will depend on the leadership of 7 seniors on their defense.

The Yoemen will travel to the new facilities at Pflugerville High School where the kick - off time has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Reserve tickets are still available at the principal's office at Yoe High.

Caldwell Wins District Volleyball Title

The Caldwell fems defeated Yoe in the District 23-AA Volleyball Tournament last Saturday. The event was hosted by the Yoe girls at the Yoe High gym.

The Caldwell girls fought back to defeat the Yoe girls in the finals and received the District Crown and will advance to Regional competition. The Yoe girls ended their season in second place in district.

In the final match the Caldwell girls had to fight back after an aggressive display of offensive power by the Yoe girls. The victory went; 15-12 (Caldwell), 9-15 (Cameron), and 15-13 (Caldwell).

The final game of the match that gave Caldwell the advantage went to the wire with the Yoe girls leading 13-6 but Caldwell was able to regain the service and went 7 straight service points to win the district title.

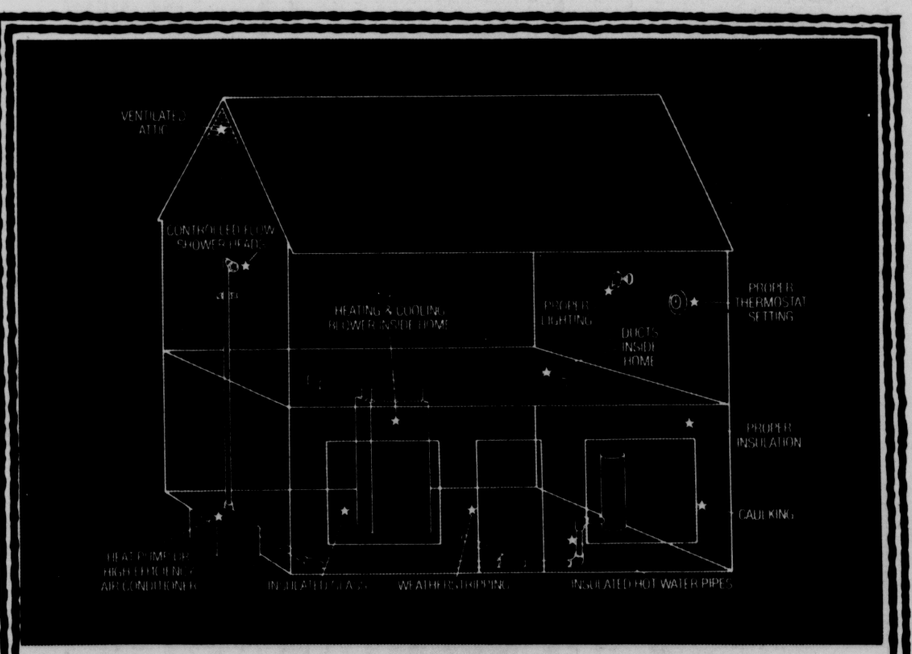
In the finals match Denice Drgac led the scoring with 13 points followed by Debra Fleming, Diana Chubb and Evelyn Pittman each with 7. Carole Morris and Janet Angell each had 3 points.

In the semi - finals Caldwell defeated Elgin; 15-8 and 15-9. Also in the semi - finals the Yoe fems defeated Rosebud-Lott; 15-12 and 15-7.

In the game with Rosebud-Lott Diana Chubb led the scoring with 9 points followed by Debra Fleming and Denice Drgac each with 7. Janet Angell had 5 points in the winning effort.

In the first round of play Caldwell received a bye because they were undefeated in season play. Elgin defeated Rockdale; 12-15, 15-8, and 15-11. Rosebud - Lott defeated Manor; 15-0 and 15-4. The Yoe girls defeated Hearne; 15-2 and 15-3.

In that first game of the tournament Carole Morris led the scoring attack with 9 points. Debra Fleming had 7 followed by Janet Angell with 6 points. Diana Chubb toed the service line for 4 points.



In an Energy Efficient Home... it's the things you can't see which can save the most money.

Texas Power & Light has an important new program of help for home owners, home buyers and home builders. TP&L's "135-Point Energy Efficient Home Plan" is a complete guide for savings on the cost of electricity in the home.

The program is explained in a 16-page booklet which is yours for the asking. The booklet tells not only how to get the most efficient use of electric appliances and equipment you now have, but things to consider in selecting replacement or additional appliances and equipment.

The most valuable part of the booklet is the 135-point rating checklist which you can use to measure the energy efficiency of your present home or one you may be planning to buy or build. You'll learn how it's the things you can't see... construction and insulation of the home, location and installation of heating and cooling ducts, etc.... which can save the most money.

For your copy of the "135-Point Energy Efficient Home Plan" booklet, visit, call or write a Texas Power & Light Company office... it's yours without cost or obligation.

Mondrik, Petty To Meet Again

By Forrest Guess

A life - long saga between Joey Mondrik of Cameron and James Petty of Rockdale will be continued as both young men will face one another once again in grid competition after 6 years of schoolboy football. They will meet in college football competition this Saturday.

Mondrik and Petty will meet in what is called the "Little Army-Navy Game." Mondrik is playing for the Navy Academy Prep School (NAPS) in New Port, Rhode Island.

Petty is playing for the Military Academy Prep School (MAPS) in Fort Mammouth, New Jersey.

Mondrik and Petty faced each other for the past six years and the story goes back to the junior high days when Petty played for Rockdale Junior High and Mondrik played for O. J. Thomas Junior High in Cameron.

The competition continued throughout the 7th and 8th grades. It didn't stop there. The two young men met in the Milam County rival in high school as well.

The record shows Mondrik has been on the winning side every game except when they were on the JV. Rockdale won that game.

Both young men are in prep school prior to their acceptance into the regular academy. Mondrik has received his appointment to Annapolis by Congressman Bob Poage.

Petty visited the West Point campus in September and will await his appointment to West Point after graduation in May. The prep school has a 95% matriculation record of candidates who are successful in entering the Academy.

In the game between the two teams Mondrik will be wearing jersey #82 and will be playing defensive halfback. Mondrik stands 6' and weighs 190 pounds.

Petty will be wearing jersey #30 in the game that will be played in Fort Mammouth, New Jersey. Petty weighs 160 pounds and stand 5'8".

Petty's prep school has won every game except one, losing to Princeton JV. Mondrik's prep school owns a 5-2 win-loss record and plays teams from Central Connecticut, Brown University, and Harvard JV.

The story will continue for the next four years. This makes 11 years of grid competition that began only 15 miles apart. The move to their new locations covered 2000 miles away from Cameron and both young men are stationed only 200 miles apart.

Petty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Petty Sr. of 721 Vernon Street in Rockdale. Mr. Petty is a junior high coach in Cameron. James Jr. has been made the squad leader of his platoon while serving in basic training.

Mondrik is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mondrik of 103 N. Bowie in Cameron. The Mondrik family will be attending the game this Saturday.

Sports Spotlight

FORREST GUESS

MY PLEASURE...

For the past two and half years I have been behind this typewriter pounding out quite a few column inches of sports news. It's been an experience, in more than one way.

I have seen two Cameron football teams enter into post season play and have seen the same for two years in basketball. You report the good with the bad.

But since in Cameron it's been a whole lot of good. And not only in records. To write sports you must have the continued cooperation with the athletic program. I have always received it.

Also, in the past two years we have seen our athletic program grow. Our physical ed program has improved. Now there are girls athletics and a fine program since the beginning.

Improved tennis, golf and other non - contact sports programs that involves the entire student population. The efforts are not in one basket but instead it is a system wide program.

As a writer I feel its time that the recognition of all sports be brought to light. I hope I have done this.

This will be my last byline. And as the CB jargon goes, the pleasure has been on this end. Thanks for two and a half GREAT years.

UPSET...

One commercial tells it this way, "plop, plop, fizz, fizz oh what a relief it is... What a relief it was for Elgin. The results turned out as close as the presidential elections of the same week, 16-14.

The question is, "Does Elgin have a mandate?" Caldwell will be the deciding vote. The biggest vote of all.

IF, (that's a big word) and I say IF---Elgin beats Caldwell; Elgin will represent the district in post - play.

Just remember two years ago. The situation being nearly the same. Caldwell and Cameron are tied in district play. Cameron beats Elgin, 55-0. Caldwell plays Elgin in the last game of the season. If Caldwell wins they will represent the district. How could a team that has been beat by a team that has tied ever expect to beat that team.

Something called pride. Elgin pulled of the slickest win in the history of 2A ball when they defeated Caldwell and gave Cameron a district crown.

Look where Caldwell sits today. Caldwell in the last game of the season can spoil a team that has in its hand their first District 23-AA crown, if. Just if they can get by old Caldwell. Would you say, "Revenge may be in store?"

Don't hold your breathe Rockdale... Your chances look to slim to call as the reporters said prior to the presidential elections ---- just to close to tell.

RHS you weren't the only number one ranked team to topple with a 2 point deficit. Purdue beat Michigan by the same score, 16-14.

Cameron fans would still like to see the "Victory Bell" get out of district. It has the past two years---- good luck.

CAULEY SAID...

"Without a doubt Brian Wilkinson had the best night he has ever had in his high school career. He had one of the best defensive nights I have ever seen.

"James Pair was having one of his best nights ever when he sprained his ankle and had to sit out the remainder of the game.

"David Rosemond ran as well as he has all season. This is the second week in a row for him to break the 100 yard mark. He had to carry a big load in the game because Errol Spells is out with an injury.

"Greg Kelley doesn't get mentioned enough he picked off two interceptions.

"This is the greatest group of young men to work with. They are the finest team that I have ever coached, as far as their attitude and willingness to give everything they have.

PFLUGERVILLE...

"They haven't won a district game this year. They have some pretty good size and they aren't a bad team.

"They have lost some close ones.

"Looking at them they are a good looking outfit.

"Defensively they will line up in an eight man front or even a nine man front. They will go head up and then switch to the gaps.

"It sure invites a passing game with all their men on the front line. They will only leave two men to cover for the pass.

"Offensively they will set up in a split backfield with a flanker most of the time."

BAND POWER II...

The Cameron band received a first division in University of Scholastic League competition last week in Waco.

Again I would like to say thanks for a great job --- the band looks GREAT. And it's been a great year for the drum majors, Ann Wells and Mary Margaret Chandler.

Keep up the good work--- and let's have a Sweepstakes band.

★ Talent Spotlight ★

MIKE PECK

BILL HUGHES

Bill Hughes will fill the split guard position and the defensive position for the Fighting Yoemen this season.

Hughes is a 17 year old senior at Yoe High. He stands 5'10 and weighs in at 152. He will be wearing jersey #64. Hughes has participated in football since the seventh grade.

Along with football Bill is also active in basketball, baseball, tennis, and track. Hughes is a member of the Yoe High Spanish Honor Society, Spanish Club, D. E. Club, Slide Rule Club, Jr. Historians and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hughes of Cameron.

TONY STINNETT

Tony Stinnett will fill the split end outside linebacker position for the Yoemen this season.

Tony is an 18 year old senior at Yoe High. He stands 5'11 and will be wearing jersey #85. He has participated in football since the seventh grade.

Tony is the son of Mrs. Lrene Tindle of Cameron.

When asked to cite favorites of the pro and college teams, Tony picks the Dallas Cowboys and the University of Southern California respectively.

The past summer Tony spent his time working and keeping in shape for the football season.

O J Thomas Sports News

Both OJ Thomas football teams ended their season on a winning mark and also as zone junior high champs. The seventh grade defeated Hearne, 8-6 for the second week in a row. The eighth grade squeezed past Hearne, 6-0.

In the seventh grade game the win came after two great defensive plays.

Jeff Mondrik recovered the loose pork and dashed 30 yards to give the Young Yoemen a 6-0 lead. The PAT try for two failed.

The 6-0 margin held throughout the remainder of the first half and the Young Yoemen defense was making an impressive mark.

Hearne received the kickoff to start the second half and their return went 80 yards for a tieing touchdown. The try for two failed leaving the game knotched, 6-6.

Late in the final quarter the Young Yoemen had the Hearne Eagles on their on two yard line. The Eagles pitched out on a weep and defensive end Vince Young tackled the runner for a safety.

The two points made the difference in winning the zone title for the 7th grade young Yoemen. The seventh grade ended their season with an impressive 5-2-1 record. The Young Yoemen had 38 players this past season.

On the next play Sapp pitched to halfback Rusty Crummer who set up and tossed a touchdown throw to Jeff Gelner. The PAT try for two failed giving the Young Yoemen a shakey 6-0.

In the second half the Young Yoemen were able to penetrate the Hearne defense and twice were stopped on their own five yard line.

Fumbles plagued the Young Yoemen offense when everytime they were in scoring position the costly mistakes handicapped the final yardage.

The eighth graders owned the zone title with a 5-0 zone record and a 6-1-1 overall season record. Coach Williams said, "We have a good bunch of talent on this team and I know they will do well in their high school career."

The eighth grade team had 28 members this past season.

Offensive standouts included; Jasper Harden, Rusty Crummer and James Mondrik. Defensively it was; Benny Canady, Rodney Fincher, Harlan Short, Joe Hollas and Ronnie Williams.

MINDING MONEY MATTERS

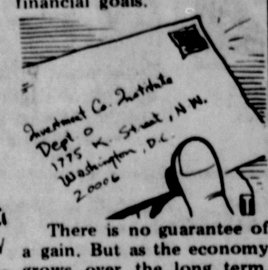
A recent nationwide report says that a four-person family that had an income of $13,000 in 1960 needs over $25,000 today to maintain the same lifestyle. And in five years, it'll probably need a lot more.

Besides household expenses, savings accounts and other investments can be hit by inflation too. If you have investments, is inflation outpacing the return on your money?

To help keep up with rising prices, many money managers think that an investment that reflects the strength of the American economy could be a big help.

Mutual funds pool the money of many people and put this money in a wide range of investments. There are many types of mutual funds with many different financial goals.

Some mutual funds are known as "common stock" funds. They usually invest in the stocks of corporations of different industries. This way, the investment risk is spread out—not all the "eggs" are in one "basket."



There is no guarantee of a gain. But as the economy grows over the long term, the value of these shares can grow too. It's like owning a piece of America. For a free booklet about mutual funds, write Investment Company Institute, Dept. O, 1775 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.
